The BnB IANUS is an independent 1950 era mansion where a calm and classic atmosphere awaits you between the secular pinetrees in Via Cassia. Just a short distance from the center of Rome. IANUS is the latin name of Giano BIFRONTE, the two faced god, a primary divinity of ancient Rome. His philosophical symbolism guarantees protection and hospitality for our customers. Entirely remodeled, Ianus is characterized by a simple, elegant, almost retro, style which will make even the demanding traveller feel at home.

One of our customers loves to describe the BnB as: "A wonderful home away from home". ... Who could ask for more than this?

IANUS is a "first class lodging house", a tourist enterprise similar to a Hotel, which is in compliance with current regulations, and offers generous hospitality based on the "Bed'nBreakfast" formula. Our philosophy privileges a warm reception, and relaxation for our guests. All rooms are large and luminous, and each includes a private bathroom, refrigerator, air conditioning and Sky SAT TV with a wide range of free entertainment channels.

Guests can comfortably enjoy breakfast in their room with prepackaged crossaints and rolls, and a self-serve machine for a variety of coffees, tea, and hot chocolate available for a coffee break—free of charge, 24h a day. There is daily room service with cleaning, change of bedsheets and towels, and a courtesy kit for personal hygiene.

Easy access to the center of Rome is available at the "Sesto Miglio" (Sixth Mile) bus stop, approximately 100 meters, from our door, where you can take the 201 or 301 bus down to the heart of the city (for more info please visit the web site: www.atac.roma.it).
